SCARY TIME

Find Out the Standard Information (Pure stats ok):

- Name
- Age
- Major
- Previous major?
- Expected graduation date?
- Plans after graduation?

Learn something interesting about them

Learn something surprising about them

Learn something they would like to change

Get Some Numbers (Pure stats ok):

How many classes are they taking? Total credits?

Any biometrics they are willing to share?

How many social media accounts do they have?

Is there any quantifiable, numerical information they would be unwilling to share? Why?

Your take on it all (at least one paragraph for each):

What did you notice / think about the person as you were first interacting with them (first impressions, in other words)?

Are you surprised by anything you learned about the person you interviewed? If so, why?

How might their information be used against them were it to be obtained by a bad actor?

How might an automated system use their information to make decisions or inferences? (Think about all we've talked about so far)
