

DEBRA J RICHARDSON

Professor of Informatics

Donald Bren School of Information and Computer Sciences

University of California, Irvine

Irvine, CA 92697-3425

office: 949-824-7353; mobile: 714-928-1205; email: djr@uci.edu

December 2011

CURRENT POSITION

Professor, Department of Informatics, Bren School of ICS

University of California, Irvine

Research and Teaching Interests:

Requirements engineering for sustainability and development

Specification-based testing and analysis, automated test oracles, software testing processes

Recruitment and retention of women and minorities in/to computing and Information Technology

Supervised fifteen PhD dissertations

EDUCATION

Doctor of Philosophy

September 1981

Computer and Information Science, University of Massachusetts, Amherst

Ph.D. Dissertation: A Partition Analysis Method to Demonstrate Program Reliability.

The primary goal of this research was the development of the partition analysis method, which incorporates the analysis of a specification and an implementation in an integrated application of verification and testing techniques.

Master of Science

May 1978

Computer and Information Science, University of Massachusetts, Amherst

Master's Thesis: Theoretical Considerations in Program Testing.

Bachelor of Arts

March 1976

Mathematics, Revelle College, University of California, San Diego

Graduated With Highest Honors (summa cum laude).

ADMINISTRATIVE POSITIONS

Founding Dean

January 2003 – present

Donald Bren School of Information and Computer Sciences

Managed ICS' transition from department structure to school organization, composed of three departments:

Annual budget of approximately $14M state funding, $13M extramural funding,

$23M endowment and $2-5M annual private support;

Faculty growth from 43 to 73 senate (regular rank) faculty, also including nine lecturers, nine research faculty and four emeriti faculty; Staff growth from 45 to 55 career staff;

Strived to increase faculty diversity in ICS, increased to 28% women and 33% ethnic minority (up from 17% and 15%, respectively).

Raised an eight-figure gift ($20 million) consisting of ten endowed chairs ($1.5-$2 million each) and ICS

Dean's Fund for Excellence (funds to support research initiation activities such as interdisciplinary and university/industry collaborations).

Raised ICS' first major alumni gift ($1.3Million CRT).

Oversaw development of Donald Bren Hall, a 87,000 ASF research, administrative and educational building giving the Bren School of ICS a presence, fostering community and supporting high-tech collaborative and inter-disciplinary research through unique design elements and reconfigurability.

July 2000 – December 2002

Department Chair

Information and Computer Science, University of California, Irvine

Reported directly to Executive Vice Chancellor (Provost) – i.e., with dean's authority.

Managed free-standing department during period of rapid growth while increasing quality:

Approximately $11M state funding, $9M external funding, $6M private support;

Prepared strategic plan for faculty hiring, curriculum development, emerging centers of excellence, school-based organizational structure, and major fund raising activities;

Faculty growth from 34 to 43 senate (regular rank) faculty and 5 to 11 full-time lecturers;

Staff growth from 35 to 45 full-time staff;

Student growth from 1250 to 2150 students (undergraduates: 1100 to 1900, graduates: 150 to 252)

while increasing quality by all objective measures: national rankings, SAT scores, GRE scores;

Created and developed faculty mentoring program;

Initiated various student mentoring programs, entrepreneurship training and student product competition;

Established ICS Cabinet (advisory board), ICS Leadership Council, ICS Educational Outreach Board, and ICS Chapter of UCI Alumni Organization;

Raised first endowed chair for ICS ($1.5Million administrative chair initially held by department chair, now held by dean).

Spearheaded the effort to elevate the Department of Information and Computer Science to a School (a long-standing ICS goal, which required approval/endorsement by ICS Faculty, UCI Administration, UCI Academic Senate, UC System-wide Academic Senate, California Legislature, UC President, and UC Board of Regents), leading to appointment as founding dean.

PRIOR ACADEMIC POSITIONS

Associate Professor

1994 – 2003

Assistant Professor

1987 – 1994

Information and Computer Science, University of California, Irvine

Research primarily in the area of specification-based testing, automated test oracles, software testing processes, software architecture and architecture-based testing and analysis; primarily supported by NSF, DARPA, and UC MICRO.

Supervised eight Ph.D. dissertations.

Courses taught generally covered software engineering, software testing, formal methods, formal specifications, requirements engineering, quality assurance, programming languages.

Visiting Assistant Professor

1981 – 1987

Computer and Information Science, University of Massachusetts, Amherst

Research primarily in the area of specification-based testing; supported by NSF, DARPA, ONR, and RADC.

Taught software engineering, operating systems, compilers, data structures, programming languages.

ACADEMIC-RELATED LEADERSHIP

Chair, Computer Science Education Week

2010 – present

Computer Science Education Week was endorsed by the US House of Representatives (December 5-11 2010) to promote the role computing plays in our nation and today's society and the importance of computer science education at all levels. The intent is to develop a national campaign, much along the lines of Engineering Week, with activities and events taking place across the country and beyond.

Advisory Council Chair, Computer Science Teachers Association

2005 – present

ACM's Computer Science Teachers Association is a membership organization that supports and promotes the teaching of computer science and computing. CSTA provides opportunities for K-12 teachers and students to better understand the computing disciplines and to more successfully prepare themselves to teach and learn.

Leadership Team / Hub Director, NCWIT

2004 – present

National Center for Women and Information Technology

The National Center for Women and Information Technology is a national coalition of more than 300 prominent corporations, academic institutions, government agencies, and non-profits working to increase women's participation in computing and information technology.

Leadership Team / co-PI, ADVANCE

2002 – present

UCIrvine's ADVANCE Institutional Transformation program, originally funded by NSF but now institutionalized by the campus, is targeted to assuring gender and ethnic equity on the faculty; key element is school-based equity advisors who develop school-specific programs in consultation with leadership team and equity advisor team.

Co-PI, California Alliance for Minority Participation (CAMP)

2001 – present

CAMP is a statewide program for under-represented students supported by NSF Louis Stokes (LSAMP) Program. Through peer mentoring and tutoring and faculty mentored research opportunities, CAMP supports student development and completion of the B.S. degree in science, engineering, and mathematics.

CRA Deans Committee Chair, Computing Research Association

2008 – 2012

The CRA-Deans Group was established in an effort to provide leadership and community to emerging and established colleges of computing and interdisciplinary "IT" schools. The group is organized around schools of computing, schools of information, and/or schools of information technology with heads that report directly to the Provost or Chief Academic Officer at a university. Served as Vice Chair 2006-2008.

Co-Director, American Indian Summer Institute in Computer Science

2001 – 2010

UCIrvine's AISICS is a summer program for high school students that aims to introduce computer science, study Native American culture and issues relevant to the global economy, introduce students to a research university environment, and assist students in pursuing higher education, while retaining their cultural pride and identity. The program is currently funded by a NSF Broadening Participation in Computing award.

OTHER COMMUNITY SERVICE

Board of Directors

2001 – present

Girls Incorporated of Orange County

Girls Inc is a national nonprofit organization dedicated to inspiring girls to be "strong, smart, and bold"; Girls Inc Orange County offers vital educational programs, particularly in high-risk underserved areas, to help girls confront subtle societal messages about their value and potential, and prepare them to lead successful, independent, and fulfilling lives.

Advisory Board

2002 – 2010

Association for Women in Technology, Southern California Chapter

Association for Women in Technology is a national non-profit organization of women devoted to the advancement of women working in computing and technology. AWT SoCal is dedicated to improving communication, furthering professional development, promoting education, and increasing opportunities through networking and programs for women and girls interested in the technology field.

Board of Directors

2001 – 2008

ARCS Foundation, Orange County chapter

The Orange County Chapter of the ARCS (Achievement Rewards for College Scientists) Foundation is one of twelve chapters that are dedicated to helping the best and brightest United States students by providing scholarships to scientists and engineers.

HONORS AND AWARDS

Automated Software Engineering Fellow

November 2009

IEEE/ACM Fellow of the Automated Software Engineering

Recognized as the first alumni for outstanding achievements and advocacy in education, for:

"Her vision and leadership have created a strong foundation for a strong academic unit that will serve generations of students to come."

Outstanding Achievement in Education

April 2009

University of Massachusetts–Amherst Computer Science, 1st Annual OAAA

Bestowed in perpetuity on those who are deemed by the ASE Steering Committee to have rendered significant and sustained contributions to the ASE Community, through their scientific accomplishments and their service to the ASE Conferences, ASE Journal, and to the ASE research community in general.

2009 OCEC President's Award

February 2009

Orange County Engineering Council, 11th Annual Issue

"The recipient of this award is nominated by the current OCEC President, based on his/her evaluation of a certain individual's special abilities, service to the engineering profession, contribution to society and any other extraordinary qualities." Specifically recognized for "her major efforts in advancing computer sciences and obtaining associated funding to strengthen associated educational opportunities."

2007 Top Twenty Women to Watch

March 2007

Orange County Metro

A woman to watch for a passion to "change the face of computing – at UC Irvine and across the nation" and "revamping UC Irvine's curriculum to focus on collaborative work, while conducting outreach to girls to show that computer science is fun."

Woman of the Month

February 2002

Women in Technology International (WITI), Orange County Chapter

Recognized for Accomplishments in Advancing Women in Technology,

2001 Ten Women Making a Difference

March 2001

Orange County Metro, 11th Annual Issue

Recognized as the number two woman making a difference in Orange County, in three ways: "1) as a researcher in software testing technology, 2) as chair of the largest and fastest growing Computer Science department in the UC system, and 3) as a highly successful woman in a field overwhelmingly dominated by men, serving as a beacon to other women showing that CS is a path they can follow."

Most Influential Paper

March 1996

ICSE-18: 18th International Conference on Software Engineering (Berlin, Germany)

Received "Most Influential Paper" award for ICSE-8 paper, which appeared in Proceedings of the 8th International Conference on Software Engineering (London, England). The paper, "A Comparison of Data Flow Path Selection Criteria" was judged to have had significant impact on the software engineering field ten years after its publication.

LEADERSHIP PRESENTATIONS

Selected presentations at professional meetings (last ten years)

(does not include software engineering research related presentations nor presentations at UCIrvine)

Finding your Research Direction (Moderator and Panelist). Colorado Celebration of Women in Computing, Golden, CO, November 2010.

Imposter Plenary Panel: Addressing Unique Challenges (Moderator). Grace Hopper Celebration of Women in Computing, Atlanta GA, October 2010.

Managing Up – Partnering with your Dean. CRA Conference, Snowbird UT, July 2010.

Guidelines for Coordinating Faculty Recruitment. CRA Conference, Snowbird UT, July 2010.

Turning good policies into good practice: The need for culture change, Plenary Panel. National Center for Women and Information Technology Summit on Women & IT, May 2010.

Interventions & Evaluations @ICS: Challenges and a few Solutions. National Center for Women and Information Technology Summit on Women & IT, May 2010.

Why Everyone Matters: Bridging the Great Divide between K-12 and University. Computer Science and Information Technology Symposium, Closing Keynote Presentation, Washington, DC, June 2009.

Programs, Degrees, and Jobs, What Do I Tell My Students? Computer Science and Information Technology Symposium, San Antonio TX, June 2008.

Current Diversity Challenges Facing Higher Education. Cornell University, May 2008.

Computing, Math, Science: Your Future. AAUW Tech Trek, October 2007.

Women in Science: Diversity in Discovery. AAUW, August 2007.

Gender Equity from Multiple Perspectives: Increasing Girls' Participation in Computing. National Educational Computing Conference, Atlanta, GA, June 2007.

Leading Change in Academia: Consensus and Conscientious Subversion, Senior Tech Leaders: "Building and Sustaining Change in Technology Cultures", San Diego, CA, October 2006.

ADVANCING Women in Computer Science: Why such success at UCI? Grace Hopper Celebration of Women in Computing, San Diego, CA, October 2006.

What's So Cool About Working on Hot Technology? Panel, Grace Hopper Celebration of Women in Computing, San Diego, CA, October 2006.

Academic Leadership Panel, Dedicated to Denice Denton, Grace Hopper Celebration of Women in Computing, San Diego, CA, October 2006.

Automated Software Engineering: What's missing in education?, 20th IEEE/ACM International Conference on Automated Software Engineering, November 2005.

The Engineering Dean's Role in Faculty Diversity, Panel Session, WEPAN / NAMEPA 2005 Joint National Conference, Las Vegas, Nevada, April 2005.

Advancing Women in Computer Science and Engineering at UCIrvine: What works, What doesn't?, NSF ADVANCE Engineering Workshop, Washington DC, December 2004.

Recruitment and Retention of Women & Minorities in Computer Science and Information Technology, CRA Snowbird Conference, July 2003.

Administrative Options, CRA-W Workshop on Reserch Careers for Women in Computer Science & Engineering, Post-tenure Track, Federated Computing Research Conference, June 2003.

The Tenure Challenge, CRA-W Workshop on Reserch Careers for Women in Computer Science & Engineering, Pre-tenure Track, Federated Computing Research Conference, June 2003.

Testament to Success, UC Systemwide CAMP Symposium, January 2003.

The MICRO Program, UCLA Electrical Engineering Research Symposium, University of California, Los Angeles, October 2002.

Assessing Teamwork, New Pressures on Computer Science & Engineering Academic Units Session, Computing Research Association Conference, Snowbird, Utah, July 2002.

Overcoming Barriers to Multi-Disciplinary Research, New Pressures on Computer Science & Engineering Academic Units Session, CRA Conference, Snowbird, Utah, July 2002.

Encouraging Multi-Disciplinary Research within and beyond IT Schools, Information Technology Deans Meeting, Computing Research Association, Snowbird, Utah, July 2002.

Diversity is the Science of Life and the Spice of Science, UCI Chief Executive Roundtable Retreat, Maui, Hawaii, May 2002.

Women in Computing: Bridging the Digital Divide, Amelia Earhardt Awards, Irvine, CA, May 2001.

The Tenure Challenge, New Software Engineering Faculty Symposium, ICSE'2001: 23rd International Conference on Software Engineering, Orlando, Florida, May 2001.

Women in Computing Research, Discovering a Career in Research: Ask the Experts, Committee on the Status of Women in Computing, Computing Research Association, February 2001.

GRANTS AND AWARDS

GRADUATE AND POSTDOCTORAL MENTORING

Dissertation Committee Chair

- Kristina Winbladh, Assistant Professor, University of Delaware
M.S. Fall 2006, Ph.D. Summer 2010
- Jose Romero-Mariona, Security Engineer, Space and Naval Warfare Systems Command
M.S. Spring 2006, Ph.D. Spring 2010
- Leila Naslavsky, Member of Research Staff, IBM Thomas J. Watson Research Center
M.S. Winter 2005, Ph.D. Fall 2009
- Lihua Xu, Assistant Professor, Rochester Institute of Technology
M.S. Spring 2006, Ph.D. Summer 2009
- Michele Rousseau, Professor and Department Chair, Saddleback College
M.S. Spring 1999, Ph.D. Winter 2007
- Marcio Dias, Lecturer (Assistant Professor), University of Durham, United Kingdom
M.S. Spring 2000, Ph.D. Winter 2005
- Marlon Vieira, Director of Product Engineering, Seimens Research Labs
M.S. Spring 2000. Ph.D. Spring 2003
- Chang Liu, Associate Professor, Ohio University
Ph.D. Summer 2002, M.S. Spring 1999
- Clark Turner, Associate Professor, California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo
Ph.D. Summer 1999
- Arthur Reyes, Assistant Professor, University of Texas, Arlington
Ph.D. Summer 1999, M.S. Fall 1995
- Juei Chang, Software Architect, Pixar Animation (formerly at Apple Computer, Yodlee, Inc.)
Ph.D. Winter 1999, M.S. Spring 1993
- Nancy Eikermann, Distinguished Member of Technical Staff, Motorola Labs
Ph.D. Spring 1997, M.S. Spring 1993
- Hadar Ziv, Lecturer and Project Scientist, UC Irvine (formerly Senior Software Engineer, eBuilt Inc.)
Ph.D. Spring 1997, M.S. Spring 1990
- Owen O'Malley, Software Architect, Yahoo (formerly at NASA Ames Research Center, Sun Microsystems)
Ph.D. Fall 1996, M.S. Fall 1989
- Margaret Thompson, M.D., Pediatric Hematology-Oncology Fellow, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital
Ph.D. Spring 1991 (awarded at UMass Amherst)

Master's Advisor (other than those who continued on to complete their Ph.D.)

- Rebecca Maessen M.S. expected 2011
- HyeJung Choi M.S. Spring 2009
- Mamadou Diallo M.S. Spring 2007
- Yuewei Zhou M.S. Spring 2005
- Rita Baker M.S. Spring 1990
- Cynthia Tittle-Moore M.S. Fall 1989
- Stephanie Leif Aha M.S. Spring 1989

Postdoctoral Supervision

- Hadar Ziv January 2003 – present
- Suzanne Schaefer October 2004 – December 2009
- Henry Muccini January – December 2002
