

Project 3:

Rap on Trial

Team A:

Justin Ma Rodrigo Ramos Alex Terreri
Alex Panganiban John Delshadi

Usability Problems

Logical and Unconstrained Navigation

Consistent and Common Theme

Flexible and Efficient Use

Clear and Minimal Aesthetic

Customer's View

Site as a Resource

Professional Looking

An All-Purpose Reference Guide

Initial Thoughts

“Customer is Always Right”

Important Civil Rights Issue

Complex Project

Real-World Application

Users

Types of Users

- Attorneys/Lawyers
- Professor/Scholars
- General Public
- Media Staff

users testing

- Lawyers and Professors from Client
- Team responsible for General Users testing

Phases

1. Design skeleton of website based on existing templates
2. Approval from client and test on multiple users
3. Redesign based on feedback from client and user testing
4. Touch base with client for approval of revisions

Methods

Primary Method

- Usability Testing
 - Heuristic Evaluation
 - Cognitive Walkthrough

Secondary Method

- Interview
 - 30 minutes (think-aloud tasks, semi-structured)

Time Plan

Now- 4/21	Build the skeleton of the website on wordpress	Team A
4/21- 4/24	Break the website into sections/delegate sections	Each member is given their own task.
4/24	Meeting with client this Friday to discuss progress and receive feedback	Team A
4/25	Revise according to feedback...(but not finished)	Rodrigo, Alex, and Alex

Time Plan (cont)

Early May	Add information and resources client provides	Rodrigo, Alex
	Continue to revise and edit website through usability testing and interviews	Justin, John
5/20-5/25	Work on pre-final presentation and final Project Report	Team A

Thank You!

